The VFX Supervisor Daily

THURSDAY 12 NOVEMBER 2026

Incentive money is moving work between territories while AI settles into post

Swipe for the stories →

UPDATE: FRANCE'S REBATE GETS BIGGER

How France overhauled investment infrastructure and tax rebate in bid to woo large scale film and TV projects

• screendaily.com

So what: The 40% rate for local VFX spend over €2m and rising US interest make French vendors or a French split worth pricing

US FEDERAL CREDIT: PROMISING BUT FRAGILE

Democrats Won. When Do Hollywood Crews Get Back to Work?

• indiewire.com

So what: The lame-duck push is the first test, and a political fallout could stall a credit that would shift US-funded work

US FEDERAL CREDIT: PROMISING BUT FRAGILE

“We need to bring Tom Cruise home,” say cheerleaders of US federal incentive

• screendaily.com

So what: Up to 57% combined with state credits would be a strong lure for US productions, so worth watching if it advances

AI MOVES INTO THE TOOLS YOU ALREADY USE

Adobe Brings AI Agents to After Effects, Premiere at Adobe MAX 2026

• Animation World Network

So what: Agent assistants in After Effects and Premiere could change how quickly clients expect comps and revisions, so check your own pipeline

AI MOVES INTO THE TOOLS YOU ALREADY USE

Avid's Ready to Play Brings Google AI Models to Media Composer

• postperspective.com

So what: Editors can now generate placeholder shots and remove objects like boom mics, which may reshape what lands in your VFX turnover

AI MOVES INTO THE TOOLS YOU ALREADY USE

The Last Mile: How Rodeo FX Brought xSTUDIO Into Daily Production

• aswf.io

So what: A two-engineer team adapting an open source review tool shows a small studio can build custom pipeline tools cheaply

AI MOVES INTO THE TOOLS YOU ALREADY USE

Adobe and Disney Announce Multi-Year AI Alliance

• Animation World Network

So what: Disney's custom models trained on its own properties suggest some studio work may go to in-house AI, so worth watching

AI MOVES INTO THE TOOLS YOU ALREADY USE

iQIYI Launches Chinas First AI Film Studio in Shanghai, with Inaugural Title Cop in Trouble in Production

• en.antaranews.com

So what: A Chinese platform pairing live action with AI post is a possible sign of cheaper rivals, though this is a press release

France is paying more for VFX just as UK inward spend falls, and the US federal credit faces political risk.

The VFX Supervisor Daily

Subscribe for the next issue:

thevfxsupervisor.com/daily